From Steel to Soul is a journey of transformation — of matter, of meaning, and of the human spirit.

Initiated by Banque BEMO, in collaboration with Revive Art Hub by Mirna Mchantaf, this exhibition brings together Artists with Autism whose creativity transcends limits and redefines beauty through purpose.

Born from recycled steel, each artwork carries a story of renewal — a dialogue between strength and sensitivity. What was once rigid and industrial has been reimagined into shapes that breathe emotion, tenderness, and light.

Through their colors, textures, and forms, these artists reveal inner worlds that speak of courage, imagination, and hope. Their creations are not simply sculptures; they are emotional landscapes — reflections of how art can transform what is cold into something deeply human.

From Steel to Soul is more than an exhibition. It is an invitation to see differently — to recognize that inclusion is not an act of generosity, but of awakening. It reminds us that when creativity is nurtured, it can bridge worlds, renew perspectives, and bring forth beauty from the most unexpected places.

This collection also speaks to sustainability — a powerful reminder that transformation begins with awareness, and that every fragment of life, like every piece of steel, can hold the potential for rebirth
